DOES ANYBODY WANT A CONGRESSMAN?

Does anybody want a Congressman? If he does, there is a chance of getting one—not a certainty, but a chance. The entertainment committee who are making arrangements for the visit of the Congressional party that is to arrive here on the 30th of this month has come to the conclusion that perhaps some of the visitors would enjoy themselves better as the guests of some of the hospitable homes of Honolulu than at the hotels, and they have decided to suggest the idea to the people of the city.

There is no doubt as to the response they will receive and the only thing that is troubling the committee is that there will not be enough Congressmen to go around. Some of the visitors, also, may prefer to stop at the hotels, where they will be a little more free to do as they please. But it is not improbable that many of them, especially those who are accompanied by their wives, would appreciate being asked to be the guests of Honoluluans and would be glad to accept such invitations. A number of the Congressmen are well known here, both by reputation and personally, and some of them were members of the Congressional party that visited Hawaii last two years ago.

If anyone wants a Congressman, the entertainment committee suggests that he communicate the fact either to Chief Clerk R. O. Matheson or to the executive committee of the entertainment committee.

INJUNCTION HEARING ON.

The hearing in the matter of the injunction asked by the Oahu Railway & Land Company against James Armstrong and L. L. McCandless, was begun before Judge Robinson yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff asks the court to issue a permanent injunction, restraining the defendants from maintaining a dam on the premises of the plaintiff at Ewa, and from carrying water under and across Lehua avenue for irrigation purposes.

A CONGRESSIONAL LU'AU.

Mayor Fern called on Governor Frear yesterday afternoon to suggest that a lu'au be given for the benefit of the Congressional party. The Governor promised to place the suggestion before the entertainment committee at its next meeting.
